Bella Rocca Estate presents a rare opportunity to acquire a high-value luxury real estate asset with an established, income-producing business already in operation. Located in the Cayman Islands, the property functions not only as a premier private residence but as a proven luxury rental investment with consistent demand in the high-end short-term rental market. The estate has been professionally positioned and operated to deliver strong commercial performance while retaining flexibility for owner occupation. The residence is designed to support premium rental activity, with expansive indoor-outdoor living areas well suited to multi-generational groups, extended stays, and luxury entertaining — factors that underpin high nightly rates and repeat bookings.
